WUJIAOCHANG CENTRAL BUSINESS DISTRICT, SHANGHAI, CHINA
2007-2014

Shanghai is the economic center of China, as well as the center of finance, trade, shipping and scientific and technological innovation. Located in the northern part of Shanghai, Wujiaochang is one of the four sub-centers of it. Its central district is one of the top ten commercial centers in Shanghai. The intersection of five main roads forms the city's central square. Five of the most important commercial and office complexes are located at five road corners formed by five roads. An elevated road runs through the entire area in an east-west direction. An oval-shaped structure is designed on the viaduct, which sits above the central plaza and serves as the identity of the whole area. At the same time, through an underground passageway, the central plaza is connected to the subway line and five commercial centers on the ground floor. The entire commercial area covers an area of 0.96 square kilometers, with a total construction area of 1.4 million square meters. It has convenient transportation, rich functions, and a strong business atmosphere and vitality.

The Wujiaochang is the place I know best because of its superior location. I have lived here for ten years. From the first time I came here, I was attracted by its unique road form. And it's where I go to school every day. In 2011, four malls were built around the central plaza. From 2011 to 2014, Hopson One completed the construction from nonexistence. In 2016, Wanda Plaza underwent renovation. In 2018, the transformation of central Plaza, Suning and Oriental Department Store began respectively. Since 2020, the last Bailian shopping mall has also been renovated. Until now, the whole central area has been completely renovated. Until 2000, the area was just a strip mall. Before 2014, the most prosperous business districts were only in the central area. Today, the 2,000 meter diameter area is a bustling commercial atmosphere.

Hopson One is my favorite and the most luxurious commercial complex in the area. Its office building, at 200 meters, is the tallest building around. Its hotel is also the highest class hotel in the neighborhood. I also worked here for 3 years and experienced how the building continues to enrich and change people's lives.
